Amico Single and Dual Travel Cases

Whether you're traveling across the country or just a few blocks, protect your Amico and its contents with the Amico travel case.

Made with 0.14" (3.5 mm) Medium Density Fiberboard (MDF) and a textured, glossy black melamine exterior, this travel case was designed specifically for Amico and its accessories. Featuring chrome-plated steel latches, rear hinges and reinforced corners, the travel case provides light duty protection with a professional look. The precision die cut foam interior includes customized compartments for Amico, one spare battery, the remote control, the external power adapter, and several snap-in adapter plugs. The Amico will fit snugly inside the case with or without the Protective Cover (sold separately).

If Amico will be traveling with its companion, Amica, consider the Dual Travel Case. This case has the same features and construction quality as the single case, but is large enough to accommodate both Amico and Amica together, including Amica's audio cable.

Protect your portable Como Audio music system and show everyone you're serious about your sound with the Amico Single and Dual Travel Cases.
